Questions & Answers:

Q1. Does the Highway Safety Manual Workshop (12 PDH's) conducted by LADOTD/LTRC in December of 2014 qualify as this training for Minimum Personnel Requirement 4c in the advertisement?

A1. Yes

Q2. Can Firm A as a Prime and Firm B as a Sub submit another separate proposal whereby Firm B is the Prime and Firm A is the Sub?

A2: The same team comprised of different Prime and Sub combo can submit more than one proposal, however that team cannot receive more than one contract from a Request for Qualification.

Q3. Number 2 of the Minimum Personnel Requirements, it asks the Prime Consultant to employ a professional civil engineer with three years of experience in preparation of planning and environmental documents. Can that be filled by an environmental Sub-Consultant instead?

A3. No.

Q4. Since the Environmental Professional can be an engineer with three years of experience in the direct preparation of NEPA documents, can the minimum personnel requirement 4d be met by any of the described Minimum Personnel Requirement numbers 2 through 4b (similar to that allowed by personnel requirement 4c)?

A4. Yes if they meet the requirements of both and are with the Prime Consultant.
